The world championship on the American table.

Keep it at home.

WHAT WE'RE DOING

What it is. One of the ITSF's World Series, its biggest events after the World Championships and the World Cup.

It has always been here. Every edition has been played in the United States. It's the only ITSF World Series held outside Europe.

Now it may leave. The next one is reported to be going to Austria. Nothing is confirmed.

Our proposal. A multi-year agreement that makes Dallas–Fort Worth, Tornado's hometown, its home every Memorial Day weekend, with sponsors and the host city covering the host's costs.

WHY WE'RE DOING IT

The world's best come to play on a table made in Richland Hills, Texas. US players earn the biggest ranking points without crossing an ocean, and a kid from a school club can watch it, or play the junior division, without a passport.

THE PRIZE

1,000

ranking points to the winner, the most on the ITSF World Tour
